

HOW THE SUN BECAME THE MOON

Author: Brunda Anandarao

Illustrator: Brunda Anandarao

Level 1

Long time ago, two suns shone in the sky. There was no moon at all!

One day, the two suns saw people swimming in a pool and thought it was so much fun. One of the suns decided to do it and dipped himself in the ocean. He cooled down so much that he turned into the moon!

Now we have a sun who shines in the morning and a moon who shines at night. And people know when to wake up and when to sleep!!

Created by Anshu raghavendra (10 years old), with the help of Brunda Anandaraao.
The summer sun that would set as late as 10 in the night triggered the imagination of this child who came up with this story.
