Level 1

The sun and the moon were best friends!
They were inseparable. They loved looking at the stars together and looking under them to see the earth.

One day, the sun felt so hot!
It accidentally burned the moon. The moon thought it was deliberate so it got mad!

The moon ran away and the sun was so sad.
The sun's tears were dripping so hard that it rained on earth.
All the animals tried to comfort the sun but the sun didn't stop crying.

The moon hid behind the biggest stars so that the sun wouldn't find it. The moon lost a part of itself because of how the sun burned him.

The sun asked the fish in the oceans for help, but they said they can only see the moon at night hiding behind stars.

The sun tried looking for the moon until midnight, but the sun couldn't help but sleep.

To this day, the sun is still looking for the moon to say sorry. This explains why the sun can be seen in the morning and the moon can be seen at night with the stars. It sometimes rains because of the sun's tears from crying.
